Before DisclosureNet™ partnered with Sales Talent Agency, I was a little skeptical about working with a recruiting agency. But all doubt has been eliminated over the past 10 months as I've been in constant contact with Amber Bellaire who has successfully placed five candidates with our company. In order to make the hiring process as smooth as possible, Amber started with a thorough needs assessment of our team's current environment and learned about the kind of driven and successful individuals DisclosureNet™ aims to hire. The lines of communication are always open and whenever I receive profiles and resumes for potential candidates it's clear that they're top quality. Sales Talent Agency takes pride in getting to know their customers, because they're always open to feedback and strive to quickly and efficiently provide us with excellent talent. Since the agency focuses strictly on recruiting Sales talent, they understand how the world of Sales functions and exactly how to filter out candidates that would simply not be a good fit. Finally, the professional manner in which we are treated is second to none. This means that for every phone and in-person interview we're sent a calendar invitation, every reference is checked and every question is answered in detail. I highly recommend partnering with Sales Talent Agency for your organization's recruiting needs.
