To whom it may concern,

Epsilon Industries engaged Sales Talent Agency to help us find a National Industrial Sales Manager, a critical hire and brand new role for us.

From our very first meeting, Sales Talent Agency took the time to understand our company and the key requirements for the position, and really demonstrated their expertise in the area of sales recruitment.

Netty Kim was a steadfast and credible Account Manager, providing us with high quality candidates within a short time frame. From start to finish, she made the process incredibly easy for us from providing detailed candidate profiles to scheduling interviews to completing references and ensuring offer acceptance.

We found great value in working with Netty and the team from Sales Talent Agency, and would highly recommend them to any organization for their sales recruitment needs.

Sincerely,
