Attention: Mr. Paul Dimond

December 13, 2012

Dear Paul,

I want to take this opportunity to thank you for your extraordinary work on my behalf this year.

Before engaging with Sales Talent Agency in August of this year; and you specifically, I had worked with two other recruiting firms for the previous 10 months to source a sales resource for our growing practice.

I knew this would be a difficult role to find talent for because of my requirements of the candidate's education and experience.

Your business knowledge, patience and ability to help me understand the type of resource I required to move towards achieving my strategic business objectives is most appreciated.

I'm impressed that you could source and vet a group of suitable resources in such a short period of time, and really appreciate your assistance as we worked through the selection and employment offer phases.

The candidate you sourced for me has only been on site for a couple weeks now and I am extremely pleased with how quickly he has hit the ground running, already providing value to my business.

I have absolutely no reservations in recommending you to any business who wants to add the best sales resources to their team; and will wholeheartedly refer any of my associates who require sales resources to you.

Sincerely,
