To whom it may concern,

I would like to recommend Sales Talent Agency to any Sales Leader who is looking to bring in top sales talent; whether that is new graduates with a lot of potential or experienced high-performers.

Sales Talent Agency, and our designated Account Manager, Kelsey Robinson, were an absolute delight to work with. They were proactive, professional and diligent. We were presented with a roster of excellent candidates that completely fit the profile of the people we were looking for. The candidates we sought are not easy to find. To facilitate our decision making process, we were given a very helpful briefing document on their work experience, sales aptitude and acumen. STA also did an excellent job checking references. The entire process was seamless.

I HIGHLY recommend Sales Talent Agency and would definitely use them again in the future!

Sincerely,
