

August 26th 2011

To Whom This May Concern

RE: Sales Talent Agency & Dean Mitchell

I have worked with recruiters from Sales Talent Agency over a number of years in different companies. My recruitment requirements have been single searches to multiple requirements related to major recruitment projects. Functionally the roles have been very diverse from junior to senior level and of most relevance was the building up of a business development team.

Dean has worked with me as a trusted business partner and he typifies the Sales Talent Agency approach & culture. They are always very honest, consultative, reliable, communicative and with a great sense of humour, a pleasure to work with. The Sales Talent team delivers exceptional service and they always take the time to understand my recruitment requirements in detail, as well as the company, the department and its culture.

I would highly recommend Sales Talent Agency and Dean Mitchell as a professional recruiter to source top notch talent.

Sincerely

Human Resources Business Partner