

Yellow Pages engaged STA in early May, initially in Ontario, to help staff for inside and outside sales recruitment. We were very pleased with the quality of candidates presented to us, as well as the quick timeframe in which they were provided. Since May, Yellow Pages has expanded the partnership and now uses STA across the country. Our contact, Kristin Condon, is an experienced, professional recruiter that takes the time to understand the role, the culture and the expectations before presenting candidates. She meets with every candidate before presenting them to us and provides us with references and follow up when needed. Kristin and her team respond quickly to our urgent requests and has assisted us in filling both inside and outside sales positions. I highly recommend Kristin and Sales Talent Agency to any organization looking for a solid company to partner with as an external recruitment partner.
