To Whom it May Concern,

Cambridge engaged Sales Talent Agency, in particular the services of Parveen Mandviwalla and Xander Ashton, to find professional Business Development Representatives in our Chicago office.

Throughout the entire process, Sales Talent Agency clearly demonstrated their expertise in recruitment. From the start, they took time to understand our business, and have consistently met our key requirements and objectives for the role. Parveen did a great job with the speed of response and the level of communication during our partnership.

Cambridge was very pleased with the quality and quantity of the candidates that were presented, conclusively filling the BDR roles for our 2019 and 2020 hiring needs.

If you are looking to grow your sales team, we highly recommend Sales Talent Agency as a recruitment partner to any company.

Best Regards,
